We practice what we preach.

“Certified Benefit Corporations (B Corps) are a new type of company that uses the power of business to solve social and environmental problems. B Corp companies have some pretty rigorous standards to live up to in terms of environmental performance, accountability and transparency. IOAN was certified to meet these requirements and we're proud to say, for once it felt really good to be judged.”

Our virgin alpaca sweaters are your new winter go to. Super soft and extra warm for even the harshest winters. Once you put this baby on you wont want to take it off, and that's okay. IOAN Alpaca Sweaters feature only virgin colors natural to the Alpaca. This means that they are untouched by any dyes. We asked ourselves, "Why do we have to modify something that is already naturally beautiful?" We chose to stick with the virgin colors of the Alpaca because it reduces the impact that petrochemical dyes have on the environment and also means that we not only have the choice, but also the responsibility to preserve our planet.

Our Partners

Our local partners in Bolivia is a Co-op which consists of 1,200 families of skilled knitters and Alpaca breeders who live in the Bolivian highlands and collectively operate as a cooperative. Our partners are dedicated to the industrialization of yarn and string products as well as the production of high quality garments, without exploiting the local population. Although the company has over 1,200 partners in its farmer co-op, they only employ about 120 people in their garment department, the majority of which are women.
